#30GREENMINUTES GARDEN THERAPY CHALLENGE- COMPETITION DETAILS

The fifth annual Garden Releaf Day will be held on Sunday March 24 2019. The lead up to the day is to raise greater awareness of the health and wellbeing benefits associated with getting in a garden or surrounding yourself in living greenery. Garden lovers have always known that garden therapy is good for you and now to support this message recent Australian research documented in the journal Scientific Reports tells us that people getting a minimum dose of 30 green minutes a week (in one session) are likely to have healthier emotional, physical, social and mental well being than those who don't. The #30greenminutes challenge asks you to find at least 30 minutes a week to spend time in a garden. It may be by yourself or with a friend, family member, child, special person or pet. This is a personal challenge, there is no need to register but to encourage you to share stories, thoughts, photos and feelings about how you your #30greenminutes or how you encourage loved ones and friends to Get in a garden, get healthy and have fun.
